PROFILE

Alf was born into a family that was passionate about conservation. His father was the Chief Warden of the Department of National Parks and Wildlife Management and he spent his childhood tagging along on wild adventures with his dad, which naturally shaped his passion for the outdoors. Alf, who now has over 20 years of professional guiding experience, has used his training in parks all over Zimbabwe, South Africa, Botswana, Tanzania and Rwanda to understand the needs and wants of the safari lifestyle and deliver an unforgettable safari experience. Alf, a creative photographer and avid natural life-history interpreter, is not only an exceptional guide, he is a story-teller who brings Africa to life.
